The Alaska Utility Supply Center

Supplying the Native Communities and Organizations of Rural Alaska

What is the Alaska Utility Supply Center?

The Alaska Utility Supply Center (AUSC) stocks and supplies components for water and wastewater systems. Founded in January 2001, with the goal of providing the highest quality service to Alaska Native communities, AUSC buys utility parts /supplies individually or in volume and passes on discounts to its members. Already, over 150 Native communities, 4 regional health corporations, and 20 projects have joined as members. AUSC is a branch of ANTHC's Division of Environmental Health & Engineering.

Why join the Alaska Utility Supply Center?

AUSC Staff is familiar with the sanitation needs of rural Alaska.

Instead of calling several manufacturers and suppliers, you can call one number to find almost any component you need.

Because AUSC is in Anchorage, service to rural Alaska is quick.

AUSC buys supplies in volume and passes on savings to members.

AUSC serves only Alaska Native communities and organizations (51% or more Native population).

Trained and experienced staff to help ensure you get the right part you ordered.

Membership is FREE

How can I find out more about the Alaska Utility Supply Center?

If you are an Alaska Native community, borough, Health Corporation, utility, school, or clinic, and you would like more information about AUSC, a catalog, or a membership application, please contact us by phone or e-mail in Anchorage, Alaska:
