

ALASKA NATIVE TRIBAL HEALTH CONSORTIUM AND ALASKA PACIFIC UNIVERSITY INVITE YOU TO THE 2022 ALASKA INDIGENOUS RESEARCH PROGRAM

Are you an Alaska Native or American Indian and interested in health research?

Are you a researcher or health professional interested in Alaska Native health research?

Looking for an exciting way to start out your summer and experience campus life?

PROGRAM INFORMATION:

Alaska Native and American Indian people have historically been underrepresented among researchers and health scientists. There is a need for Western-trained researchers to be more culturally aware, respectful and responsive in meeting the diverse health care needs of these Indigenous communities.

PROGRAM GOAL:

The goal of Alaska Indigenous Research Program is to increase the health research capacity of Alaska Native/American Indian people and communities by providing Indigenous-centered, cross-cultural research education and internships.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:

- Understand Indigenous views and apply Two-Eyed Seeing framework
- Conduct equitable and ethical health research with Alaska Native/American Indian people and communities
- Apply appropriate research methods (Indigenous and Western)
- Understand historical and cultural context where health research is conducted
