Sharing The Model:

How to Develop Replicable IGAP projects, Document Your Success and Challenges, and Evaluate Your Progress in Developing a Tribal Environmental Program

Introduction: Santina Gay, EPA

Sonny Lamont, Newhalen's IGAP Program

Mandy Salminen, Raising Awareness for the LEO Network in Unalaska

Akutan had a great backhaul project this past summer! We also did youth outreach with a plant gathering workshop and a berry picking workshop. cont..

Pilot Station Village -Green-up Cleanup (and one before snowfall) , compliments from community members -Resilience of the event, even with turnover

Dillingham helped with backhaul shipping costs of two container vans of lead or oil based paint, florescent bulbs, & e-waste, also incorporated youth in erosion monitoring

White Mountain did 3 clean ups in FY23. Spring clean up, river clean up and a fall clean up. Thank you ALPAR for funding our fall clean up.

CCTHTA- Hosted Our Southeast Tribal Environmental Forum

E-waste collection and clean up green up was a huge success. The whole community came together to help cont.. We educated the kids about plants and informed them about environmental concerns. Thanks!

Kongiganak received Litter Prevention Award by ALPAR September 2023, Proud of the youth & adult yard clean up who participated to clean up the community

What is one FY23/24 project that you are most proud of?

Napaskiak- Clean up green up, Delta back haul (coming to collect waste such as washer dryers freezers refridge) recycling and hiring a labor to collect lots of waste during summer

-DIO-Big Beachway & Dumpsite Clean-up was a huge success. Backhauled old junk out, built a new burn-unit using Chris Marshall's chimney stack. Grateful the tribe has heavy equip

ANVIK - Hazardous waste collection center and used oil burner EPA Tribal Hazardous Waste Grant - Nathan Elswick

APIA had solid waste signage made up in Unangam Tunuu (Aleut language) & English for Aleut Tribes. Things like, take care of our lands and the ocean and don't litter FY23, 4th qtr. Working with youth was very good at Chuathbaluk.

Chuathbaluk -- Annual Educational Clean Up Green Up also the One Day Fall Clean Up and our youths know about the three R's
